

For producers

A limited supply of Radio Frequency Identification (RFID) tags is available from the Wisconsin Department of Agriculture, Trade and Consumer Protection courtesy of the U.S. Department of Agriculture.

ORDERING

- Order at datcpservices.wisconsin.gov/vetcatalog.
- Tags are available in multiples of 100.
- When ordering, under "special instructions" include your premises identification number (PIN, required) and indicate any preference of tag type (Allflex, Datamars, Y-tex). If preferred tags are unavailable, you will be provided tags from another manufacturer. If you do not know your PIN, contact the Wisconsin Livestock Identification Consortium at (888) 808-1910.

USING

- White button 840 official RFID tags are for use on replacement cattle and bison only.
- Tags are for use only in your own animals. They are not to be shared, sold or used at other farms.

TAGGERS

- A limited supply of taggers are available at no charge for first time orders of specific manufacturer's tags.
- Taggers may also be purchased directly from the manufacturer or their distributor. It is recommended to use a tagger from the same manufacturer as the tags.
